AN OUTPAGE UPON THE FASHIONS.—A newly-inducted policeman in New Orleans recently had a singular adventure with a fashion-minded lady who he met coming out of a goods store. He had heard of shoplifting carried off the most costly goods disposed about the person. He was a man of distinction, and here was a chance to get the coveted fame. The lady was carrying a heavy load. She must be a shoplifter. There could be no doubt of it—he would arrest her.

"You are my prisoner," he said, laying his hand on her shoulder.

"What do you mean?" demanded the insulted lady.

"What—that you've got on your back—stolen goods!"

"Heavens! I never was so insulted. No, sir, it's not stolen goods."

"I mean no offence, madam, but my duty compels me to examine it."

"Sir—villain—that's my—my Greekian beauty."

A SOCIETY, consisting of males and females, from five different Shaker societies, recently held a meeting in Boston, for the purpose of presenting and defending their peculiar faith. To become missionaries among that people. One of their prominent tenets is the abolition of marriage, or the total separation of the sexes. In this way they propose the renovation of society. To the uninitiated, this may be a revolting notion. But the initiated know that the conjunction of the race would be favorable. Shakerism was introduced into this country from England in the year 1774, by Ann Lee.

Norwegian felted boxes, for cooking, are attracting great attention in London. The food is placed upon the regular fire for a short time, and the dish is then removed and enclosed in the felted box for three or four hours, by which time it is asserted, that combined heat completes the process of cooking. The apparatus is coming into use in England for shooting parties and picnics, and it is recommended as admirably suited to the wants of the poor.

There exists no one, though ever so wretched, who has not the means of permanent happiness within his power.

Mr. William Kincaid, a well known circus performer, died of disease of the heart, in Baltimore, on Sunday. He was in the thirty-eighth year of his age.

The joy of the spirit is a delicate deposit, and must be kept in a pure casket, as an unholly breath will dim its luster and fade its freshness.

They have commenced building cars for the through travel from California to New York.

In Troy a Christian girl buried a stillborn baby in a snow bank. It was resurrected by school children. A pious deacon is likely to smell grief.

An Ohio lawyer, having defended a criminal so well as to get him sentenced to the penitentiary for life, now sues for a $2,000 fee for his services.
